The Frieze Teens program supports high school students by providing them with the unique opportunity to interact with key players in the contemporary art world. From September through May, Frieze Teens meet weekly for workshops and site visits developing a comprehensive understanding of the myriad careers and current practice in the contemporary art world. Frieze Teens form a peer community and work collaboratively to investigate and broaden their artistic perspectives.

Frieze Teens expand their verbal and written communication skills through a series of research and reflective projects. The ideal candidate for this program, is hardworking, curious, discerning, responsible and interested in a career in the arts. After months of professional development, Frieze Teens engage and lead personalized tours of the Frieze Art Fair to visiting school groups.

- Applicants must be current high school students
- Applicants must be able to make a commitment to the Frieze Teens Program for the full academic year (September–May)
- Frieze Teens meet Saturdays from 10.30am–12pm
- Screening Process: Applicants will provide one letter of recommendation, participate in an in-person interview
